SERVING THE BEST IRISH-INSPIRED FOOD

We are well known for Irish stew, Guinness and oysters but the truth is Ireland is home to a whole range of produce which this menu aims to celebrate. Great cooking that looks to top quality ingredients that are respected. Flavours that are inherently of themselves.

The Irish tradition of food is grounded in the simple things; soda bread, scones, great jam, and amazing buttermilk. We have tried to bring that approach to our food here so that you can enjoy big flavours, a purity of approach. Food that is not overly designed but wants to be eaten.

Our range of menus have been totally reworked, starting with the key ingredients and building them from the ground up. Big bold flavours but fashioned in an elegant, modern way.

Ireland today punches way above its weight in food. For a small island we have people producing world-recognised produce. We still have our favourites but they are constantly being joined by a growing range of new and innovative products.
